August ushered in with rain. Good! Fred E. Cole, formerly telegraph operator at this station, is in the city.

Dr. S. Revell, of South Branch, was in the city the fore part of the week.

Our photographer has "folded his tent like the Arab and silently stole away."

Harvesting is nearly over in this vicinity, and wheat, rye and oats unusually good.

A few more cans of those genuine B. B. Beans at 18 cents per can, at J. C. Silsbee's.

The railroad company has begun grading between the passenger and freight depots.

Get your envelopes printed at the AVALANCHE office. A large stock of fine envelopes cheap.

We noticed a load of clover hay on the street Tuesday, freshly cut. Will the plains grow clover?

Mrs. J. C. Silsbee started Tuesday for a week's visit to her old home—Arbela, Tuscola county.

Mr. John Kelley has a new blacksmith shop erected on the north side of the river near the bridge.

The rain reached us Tuesday and was more than welcome to the thirsty crops, and to extinguish forest fires.

A full stock of coffins of all sizes constantly on hand at Traver's furniture store.

Mr. Hun, who has been suffering the past week with a severe sore throat, is, we are glad to note, able to be about again.

Our thanks are due the secretary of the Michigan State Agricultural Society for tickets for the fair to be held at Jackson Sept. 15-22 inclusive.

Good No. 1 family flour at $7.20 per barrel and bolted meal at $2 per cwt. at J. C. Silsbee's.

Mrs. A. A. Gibbs, of Detroit, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dr. Revell, of South Branch, for the past month or two, returned to her home last week.

A free lecture on the "Evils of Monopoly" will be delivered by Mr. Robert Schilling, of Milwaukee, Wis., in this city on Wednesday evening next. So says small posters about town.

Now that hot weather and flies are upon us, those milk and fly-proof safes at Dr. Traver's will be just the thing you need.

Miss J. Smith, superintendent of the Sunday school at Fredericville, reports in answer to our Beaver Creek correspondent, an attendance of twenty-seven scholars and five teachers.

As Mr. Adelbert Taylor was going to dinner last Saturday he discovered his house on fire in the roof of the west wing. Quick time and prompt action saved the property with but little damage.

Another of those pleasant socials of the Ladies' Aid Society is to come off this week Friday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Rose. These socials are open to all—the invitation being general—and all who do not attend will miss a very pleasant time. Supper will cost only 10 cents.

The Jolly Merry Makers, at the opera house last Thursday evening, gave an entertainment much superior to ordinary traveling troupes, and it was fully appreciated by a respectable audience, both within and outside the hall, as a goodly number, too penurious to pay the bill, rested about the windows and listened to their hearts content, a cheap way of attending the theatre.

The following language from a letter written by one of Michigan's stalwart Republicans is worthy a place in the hearts of every voter as a guide to their political action. He says: "I want all classes and all sections fairly represented, and I want honest, high-minded and pure men nominated for office. I hope, too, our State convention will take decided grounds on the temperance question. I believe we should strongly recommend submission of prohibition to a vote of the people. Michigan cannot afford to lag behind her sister States on this question."

Mr. Charles L. DeWaele has received from Lucretia R. Garfield, widow of our late President, a letter of thanks for the poem read at our Fourth of July celebration, and of which a copy was sent to her. No. 1 sweet corn 15c at J. M. Finn's. Will our readers remember that this is a good time of the year to pay subscriptions which are past due?

Messrs. Wakely and Angur took a trip down the river last week, returning Tuesday. They report a pleasant time and plenty of fish.

"Crown" brand Boston baked beans 16c at J. M. Finn's.

The building boom continues unabated in our city. The sound of the hammer and saw is heard in every direction.

Mr. J. Jensen caught one of Wm. Brink's oxen in his big ditch—or at least the ox was found mired there, but was extricated alive.

Celluloid waterproof collars and cuffs at J. M. Finn's.

Whortleberries have been picked here this year which measured an inch and seven-eighths in circumference. How is that for fruit?

Unsavoury rumors are in the air, effecting the good name of our city as a moral and intelligent place. We trust they are without foundation.

Pure drugs, medicines, chemicals and dye-stuffs at J. M. Finn's.

Nearly every train brings additions for Camp Williams, on Portage Lake, while some of the earlier arrivals are taking their departure.

At a meeting of the Board of County School Inspectors, held at the county clerk's office Tuesday afternoon, Dr. S. Revell, of South Branch, was chosen Examiner for three years, vice J. O. Hadley, time expired.

Rev. N. Norton Clark, of Laingsburg, this State, and Rev. S. Edgumbe, of this city, packed their paraphernalia Tuesday and started for Portage Lake, thinking to recuperate a little in "fishing for fish" instead of devoting all their time to "fishing for sinners." Don't swear, Reverend Sirs, and you'll catch 'em.

Rubber paints, all colors, ready mixed for the brush, is the cheapest paint in the world because it will cover more surface to the gallon, and will wear twice as long as lead and oil or any other paint in the market, and will not fade. To any one who uses this paint, and after three or five years wear is not fully satisfied, I will give them lead and oil enough to re-paint their building. N. H. Traver, Agent.

MANISTEE JOTTINGS.

MANISTEE, July 31, 1882.

DEAR AVALANCHE:
 When I returned home I expected to miss your welcome visit, but to my pleasure I find your welcome face regularly at this office, and knowing many of your readers are familiar with Manistee, I pen a few items for your columns.

This has been an eventful week for Manistee. First, the shingle mill owners are on a strike. They claim Chicago middlemen are playing them sharp, and to bring them to time, and also bring up the price of shingles, they would close their mills for thirty days; consequently, on Monday morning none of them started up, and 800 men are thrown out of employment.

On Thursday evening, at about half past six, one of the most cold-blooded murders that stain the pages of Manistee history occurred. A man by the name of Hunter and one Weston had previously had some misunderstanding and, as Hunter was leaving the boat at Seymour's dock, he met Weston going toward the boat, and immediately drew a revolver and fired two shots. Weston fell and Hunter walked up to him, and placing his foot on his body, fired a third shot through the head of the prostrate man.

On Saturday, just after dinner, the fire alarm sounded, and that noble edifice known as Union Hall in an hour's time was in ashes. The origin of the fire was due to carelessness of the janitor. The hall was erected by Mr. R. G. Peters at a cost of $30,000, was presented to his wife, and it was devoted to the work of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union. While the fire was at its height, Mr. Engleman sent for Mrs. Peters and tendered to her the use of rooms in Engleman's block for Union work until another building can be erected. In one hour's time bills were printed and being circulated through the city reading, "Union Hall is burning—meetings will be held to-morrow at the usual hours in Engleman's new block on Riverstreet." Mr. Peters was at the fire, also the contractor who built the hall, and while the building was burning the job was let to rebuild and work will commence to-morrow. It is expected to have the new one by the holidays. There was an insurance of $15,000 on the building.

J. R. L.

Hon. H. M. Loud was in town this week looking after some lumbering interest in this vicinity. He received a thorough wetting in the woods on Tuesday, but seemed to thrive under it like a young duck.

Pure wines and liquors for medicinal purposes only at J. M. Finn's.

NOTICE.
 If the person who took my pocket-knife from off the counter on Saturday evening last will return it, his name will not be mentioned.

AS HOLDEN SEES THE TENTH.

While at Bay City the other day we took some pains to make inquiries as to the standing and following of the three candidates presented from that city, with rather unsatisfactory results, on the whole. The friends of each claim to be certain of the nomination of their man. Mr. Gibson's friends seem to talk the loudest; but due allowance can be made for this, as his following is largely from among "the boys," as a "good fellow."

Mr. Hatch's supporters appear to be largely composed of substantial business men and staid citizens, who urge his claim on the grounds of ability, fitness and good citizenship. As near as we could learn, he has much the largest support among the substantial men, while Gibson appears to be strong among the element who are active at the caucuses.

As to Mr. Birney he appears to have some substantial friends, who urge his claims mostly in the light of his political experience, and figures him as the "dark horse" who will carry off the prize in the coming contest, by a combination of contending factions.

As near as we can figure it out, the Bay county delegates are likely to stand on the first ballot in the coming convention as follows: Hatch, 7; Gibson, 4; Birney, 2. But this is not the way the friends of each figure the thing, which is about as follows: Hatch, 10; Gibson, 3; Birney, 0. Another: Gibson, 9; Hatch, 3; Birney, 1. Still another: Birney, 6; Hatch, 6; Gibson, 2.

The whole number of delegates in the district is 47, composed as follows: Alpena 1, Alpena 4, Bay 13, Cheboygan 2, Clare 2, Crawford 1, Emmett 3, Gladwin 1, Iosco 3, Montmorency 1, Ogemaw 1, Osceola 1, Otsego 1, Presque Isle 1, Roscommon 2, Tuscola 10.

As near as we can figure it, Mr. Loud will carry on the first ballot, the delegates from the counties of Alpena, Clare, Crawford, Emmett, Iosco, Osceola, Presque Isle, and one from Roscommon, 13 in all.

Mr. Hatch on the first ballot: Bay 7, Gladwin 1, Roscommon 1, Montmorency 1, Ogemaw 1, Otsego 1, 12 in all. Gibson will carry 4 from Bay, and 2 from Cheboygan, 6 in all.

Huston will carry the Tuscola delegation.

Kelley will carry the 4 from Alpena.

It may be seen at a glance, that in any event Tuscola county holds the key to the situation, and that her decision will control the convention and the nomination. The contest is likely to be between Mr. Hatch, of Bay City, and Mr. Loud, of Osceola, and the probabilities are there will be some hard pushing done between them.

It is probable that the Bay county delegation will unite on Mr. Hatch after a few ballots, and in case they fail to do so, Mr. Loud is likely to walk off with the nomination. The vote for Mr. Huston, of Tuscola, and Mr. Kelley, of Alpena, is likely to be complimentary only. After the first ballot the four votes of Alpena is likely to go for Mr. Loud, which will give him 17; and should Mr. Hatch get the other six votes of Bay he will have 18. Then comes the Tuscola vote, and the way that goes is likely to decide the contest.—Farwell Register.

J. M. Finn will not be undersold—Bour this in mind.

The Otsego County Herald, like several of our exchanges, takes the opportunity to attack Representative Hubbell for his alleged connection with the publication of an article in the Grand Army Journal, reviewing an article in the National Veteran, eulogizing Hon. Thos. W. Ferry. The article in question was in bad taste, and worse language, and the editor of the Herald ought to know that Mr. Hubbell is not idiotic enough to manufacture gibberish of that kind. He is not a coward who dare not face his opponent and therefore seeks to undermine him. We believe the Herald did not for a moment credit the statements that Mr. Hubbell was in any way responsible for the article in the Journal, or cognizant that it was to be published, but was glad of the opportunity to strike a blow against his elevation to the Senate. We publish Mr. Hubbell's denial simply for the benefit of our readers who may not have seen the articles in question.

The Ogemaw Herald says of the Congressional question: "The belief is quite prevalent that the Bay county delegates in the Congressional convention will be as much divided then as they are now. If this proves to be the case, there will be no chance for the nomination of either of the candidates. As predicted by the Herald, Hon. H. M. Loud, of Osceola, is gaining support from unexpected quarters. The latest who declared in his favor were two delegates from Clare county. If Bay will not name one of her men, and vote for him solidly, there is little use of the northern counties 'fooling away' any time. Of all the other candidates Mr. Loud is more directly connected with our interests, being a resident of the northern country, a consistent Republican, and a man of ability and excellent judgment."

FOR SALE.

Mr. H. P. Schmidt, of Fredericville, offers his hotel for sale or rent. Mr. Schmidt's poor health forces him to leave the hotel business. The hotel is large—will accommodate forty or more; two large waiting rooms and an extensive dining-room makes it both convenient and agreeable. As the hotel is the only one in Fredericville which is a flourishing little village in the midst of a farming and lumbering region—it is very desirable property to own or rent. For terms inquire of Mr. Schmidt at Fredericville. [25tf]

About two and a half miles of "the identical rope that Guitene was hung with" are already in circulation among credulous relic-hunters, and the trade still thrives.

No grace is more necessary to the Christian worker than fidelity; the humble grace that marches on in sunshine and storm, when no banners are waving and there is no music to cheer the weary feet.—S. J. Nicolai.

I would spend my latest breath in pleading that every man, however humble or destitute or unworthy he may seem to be, should be treated with consideration as a human being, in the spirit of philanthropy and our most holy Christianity.—D. B. Myers.

A sermon that is to accomplish an end and to be worth listening to must embody real thoughts, thoughts that have some connection with the interests and issues of life, and must be distinct with the living convictions of the preacher. To be such a sermon, it must come from the preacher's mind and warm heart, with the very life blood of his soul at the moment of its delivery.—E. G. Robinson.

Of the forest fires near East Tawas the Gazette of the 27th says: "On the Hemlock road, from three to six miles west from Tawas City, two or three houses have been burned besides crops and meadows have been ruined. A hard fight was all that kept the magnificent buildings on the Curry farm from being burned yesterday, and it is not certain they are yet in absolute safety. We learn that on what is called the East Tawas road, three dwelling houses were burned yesterday, together with all crops, fences, etc., and one man lost five head of cattle which could not be released from the woods, so rapidly did the fire progress in its devouring fury. In every direction from this point back overland, flames have been plainly visible for the past

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

A Republican State Convention to nominate State officers and for the transaction of other business will be held at the Opera House in the village of Kalamazoo, on Wednesday, August 30th, 1882, at 11 o'clock a. m.

In accordance with a resolution adopted at Grand Rapids, May 10th, 1876, every county will be entitled to one delegate for each 500 of the total vote cast for Governor at the last State election (in 1880), and one additional delegate for every fraction of 300 votes, but each organized county will be entitled to at least one delegate.

Under a resolution of 1880 no delegate will be entitled to a seat in the convention who does not reside in the county he proposes to represent.

In accordance with a resolution adopted at Detroit, June 23d, 1880, the secretary of each county convention is requested to forward to the State Central Committee, by the earliest mail after the delegates to the State convention are chosen, a certified list of such delegates as are entitled to seats in the State convention from their respective counties.

B. P. BALDWIN, Chairman.
Wm. Livingston, Jr., Chas. D. Nelson, E. W. Cottrell, W. M. Kilpatrick, Rice A. Beal, Wm. Hartsuff, T. S. Applegate, Edgar Weeks, Jno. C. Sharpe, Theo. C. Phillips, O. C. Tompkins, W. N. Brown, J. M. Shepard, Thos. T. Bates, James Monroe, Edward Breitung, E. G. D. Holden, Republican State Central Committee.

AN OLD GENTLEMAN'S LECTURE TO "SIS."

Come here, Sis, and sit down beside me, and let me give you a little talking to. That is right. Sit clear at the other end of the sofa. It makes more room for my gout and corns, beside it being a good habit for a young lady to become addicted to. Always pander to this habit, and you will in time find yourself walking through green meadows and beside the still waters of self-respect. You may be walking alone, to be sure, but will have fewer lawn dresses to do up on Monday morning. I wish to speak to you of your mother. It may be you have noticed a certain look upon her face lately. Of course it has not been brought there by any act of yours, still it is your duty to chase it away. I don't mean for you to run at and shake your skirts and tell it to "shoo," as you would a hen, nor do I expect you to get on the other side of the fence and throw old oyster cans and pieces of old barrel staves at it, as you did at the cow yesterday. But I want you to get up to-morrow morning and get breakfast, and when your mother comes down and begins to express her surprise, go right up to her and kiss her on her mouth. You don't imagine how it will lighten her dear face. Besides, you owe her a kiss or two. Away back when you were a little girl she has kissed you when no one else was tempted by your fever-tainted breath and swollen face. You were not as attractive then as you are now. And along through these years of childish sunshine and shadows she was always ready to cure, by the magic of a mother's kiss, the little, dirty, chubby hands whenever they were injured in those first skirmishes with this rough old world. And then the midnight kisses with which she has routed so many bad dreams, as she leaned above your restless pillow, have all been on interest these long, long years. Of course she is not so pretty and kissable as you are, but if you had done your share of the work during those last ten years the contrast would not be so marked. Her face has more wrinkles than yours, and yet if you were sick that face would appear to you to be more beautiful than an angel's, as it hovered over you, watching every opportunity to minister to your comfort, and every one of those wrinkles would seem to be bright wavelets of sunshine chasing each other over the dear old face. She will leave you one of these days. These burdens, if not lifted from her shoulders, will break her down. Those rough, hard hands that have done so many necessary things for you will be crossed upon her lifeless breast. Those neglected lips that gave you your first baby kiss will be forever closed, and those sad, tired eyes will have opened in eternity, and then you will appreciate your mother; but it will be too late. There, there, don't cry—she has not left you yet. She is down in the kitchen stringing beans for dinner, and if you feel so badly you might go down and finish them, and let her change her dress and rest an hour before dinner. And after dinner you might do up the dishes while she takes a little nap. Then you might take down her hair and do it up for her. You need not wind it over your finger and fuss to make little spit curls as you used to do with yours, but give it a good brushing and wind it up gently and tenderly, as if you enjoyed doing it for her. The young man down in the parlor can wait until you have performed these duties. If he expresses any impatience, you may explain to him that you feel under more obligations to your mother than you do to him. If this does not seem to satisfy him, ask how many times he has got up in the middle of the night to warm pepper-paint for you when you were dying, with the colic, or how many hours he has carried you up and down the room, just because you would not be quieted any other way? Ask him to repeat Mother Hubbard backwards, and if he is unable to do it, it will be a proof positive that he is not the one that has repeated it to you 1,700 times. Catechise him to find out if he is the one who gave you the black silk dress and sat up to make it while you were off having a good time. Corner him up and make him admit that he went without a new bonnet last winter that you might enjoy a $12 one that you admired so much. Wring from him a confession that he has a stitch in his side, brought there by doing up your finery week after week. Then show him out of your front door, put on a calico apron, and "help" mother pick currants for jelly, and I guarantee you will think more of yourself, the world will think more of you, and you will be happier and better for having done so.—Cape Cod Item.

SYMPATHETIC AND COMBATIVE.

It is not often that one finds the sympathetic and combative elements of Irish character more finely blended than they are in the following story:

Teddy Kelly was employed as a section hand on a railroad. In an unguarded moment he undertook to occupy the main track instead of allowing the priority to an express train that was overdue. After the train passed it was discovered that Teddy had been assigned almost beyond recognition. His Emerald conductors gathered around him, bemoaned the un-inevitably taking off of their comrade, and remarked what a pity it was that the poor fellow should have been so horribly mangled. After their flood of grief had spent its force, it was suggested that one of their number be sent to break the sad news as tenderly as possible to Mrs. Kelly. Mr. Patrick Dolan was unanimously elected to perform this mournful service. He hurriedly betook himself to the Kelly mansion, and knocked at the door with enough severity to suggest the hurling of a young thunderbolt. In a few moments the woman of the house was in the presence of the visitor, and the following conversation occurred:

Dolan—"Is the widow Kelly in?"
Woman—"No; the widow Kelly doesn't live here, but I'm Mrs. Kelly."

Dolan—"You're a liar, for the corpse is just comin' around the corner!"
—Our Continent.

SHE UNDERSTOOD.

A woman with a market basket on her arm and a big bouquet of flowers in her hand, was waiting at the ferry dock when a man of pleasant address approached her and said:

"Madam, that is a very fine nose-gay."

"Yes, sir."

"I think it is the finest one I ever saw, and I have been in 27 different States."

"Yes, sir."

"There is the pansy hiding itself behind the rose. According to the language of flowers, the pansy stands for Darling. I cannot live without you."

"Likewise observe the rosebud. The language of the rosebud is, 'I'm looking for a husband.' Madam, do you understand the language of flowers?"

"Yes, sir."

"What is the language of the tulip?"

"The tulip says, sir, that if you don't stump along with your brazen impudence I'll have you walked into the cooler," was her firm reply.

He stumped.—Ex.
